

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

GOVERNANCE & CONTROL
IN FINANCE & BANKING:
A NEW PARADIGM FOR
RISK & PERFORMANCE

PARIS, FRANCE, APRIL 18-19, 2013

Conference concept

Since the start of the world financial turmoil a lot of urgent questions arouse for the financial and banking sector concerning necessary reforms and changes in day-to day operations, strategy and regulation. There are several key-points that occupy minds of the practitioners and scholars worldwide ever since. In this respect the vital importance of governance and risk issues for the financial sector was re-emphasized by bank professionals, supervisors and standard setters. How should markets and financial institutions be governed and regulated with regard to risk framework and performance? How to strike the right balance between risk oversight and profit seeking? Does corporate governance really play significant role in risk control and management process? Will the new tendencies in regulation help to achieve more sustainable condition in finance and banking industry? Do financial institutions need stricter regulation? What framework of financial market regulation would be the most efficient in reducing systemic risks? Does corporate governance have potential to contribute significantly to safeguarding against systemic risks? Which corporate governance standards will effectively improve financial institutions in this case? Thus, a new paradigm for risk and performance in finance and banking needs to be developed through governance and control procedures. This wide range of relevant issues is going to be highlighted during the conference.

Paris

Paris, home to the ISTEBC, is the capital of France and the country's largest city. It is situated on the river Seine, in northern France, at the heart of the Île-de-France region. Paris has many nicknames, but its most famous is "La Ville-Lumière" (literally, "The Light City") a name it owes both to its fame as a centre of education and ideas and its early adoption of street lighting. Three of the most famous Parisian landmarks are the twelfth century cathedral Notre Dame de Paris on the Île de la Cité, the nineteenth century Eiffel Tower, and the Napoleonic Arc de Triomphe. Organizers of the conference are going to arrange a tour by Seine River around Paris for the conference participants.
