

LIST OF EDITORS AND CONTRIBUTORS

Bashar Malkawi is the Dean and Professor of Law at University of Sharjah (UAE). He received his S.J.D from American University, Washington College of Law, and LL.M in International Trade Law from University of Arizona. His research agenda focuses on the role of the World Trade Organization, regional trade agreements, Arab economic integration, and business law.

Daniel Dupuis is an Assistant Professor of Finance at the School of Business Administration of the American University of Sharjah (UAE). He received his PhD in Finance from John Molson School of Business, Concordia University (Canada) and his MBA from Athabasca University (Canada). Dupuis has taught undergraduate and graduate classes at Sherbrooke University (Canada) and received the 2014 Excellence in Teaching Award by the Academy of Finance in Chicago (USA). His research interests include asset pricing and short sales. Dupuis has extensive industry experience as a derivatives floor trader in Chicago and Toronto and has pioneered the implementation of academic trading rooms and financial research labs in universities.

Dima Jamali is the Professor in the Olayan School of Business, American University of Beirut and currently holding the Kamal Shair Chair in Responsible Leadership and serving as Associate Dean for Research and Faculty Development. She is also serving as Executive Director for AUB Strategic Partnerships, reporting to President Fadlo Khuri. She has a PhD in Social Policy and Administration, from the University of Kent at Canterbury, UK. Her research and teaching revolve primarily around Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) and Social Entrepreneurship (SE). She is the winner of the 2016 National Council for Scientific Research Excellence Award, and the 2015 Aspen Institute Faculty Pioneer Award, dubbed by the Financial Times as “the Oscars of the Business School World” for pioneering faculty who are at the cutting edge of teaching and scholarship in their field. She is also winner of the Shield of Excellence for the Arab Region and designated as Personality of the Year for CSR by the Arab Organization for Social Responsibility in 2015. She is also winner of the 2010 Shoman Prize for best young Arab researcher, which recognizes distinctive scientific works that contribute to addressing priority issues at the local, regional and international levels. She worked as an expert consultant for the United Nations on Social Policy and CSR as well as various projects funded by the World Bank, the US Agency for International Development, and major private and public firms across the region.

Fayrouz Bencheikh is Ph.D. in Finance and Accounting, Higher Institute of Management, University of Gabès (Tunisia).

Husam-Aldin Nizar Al-Malkawi is an Associate Professor and Head of MSc in Finance Programme at the Faculty of Business and Law, The British University in Dubai, UAE. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Western Sydney, Australia. He has over 20 years of lecturing experience in higher education. He serves as a referee for several international journals including Economic Systems, Emerging Market Finance and Trade, The European Journal of Finance, Economic Modelling and South African Journal of Economics, among others. His works have appeared in journals such as Economic Modelling, Research in International Business and Finance, Managerial Finance, Corporate Ownership & Control, Humanomics, Journal of Emerging Market Finance, Journal of Developing Areas and Journal of Accounting in Emerging Economies. His research interests are in corporate financial policy, corporate governance, financial economics, Islamic finance, e-banking and applied econometrics.

Ismail Salem Elshahoubi is a lecturer in the Department of Accounting in the Faculty of Economic and Political Sciences at the University of Misurata in Libya. He is currently a doctoral researcher in Business Informatics, Systems and Accounting (BISA) at the University of Reading (UK). He received his MSc in Accounting from the Libyan Academy in 2005, and a BA in Accounting from the University of Misurata in 2002. His research interests are related to corporate governance and accountability in emerging markets, board characteristics, audit committees, disclosure and transparency, and internal and external auditing.

Khaled Otman is a lecturer in the department of Accounting, Faculty of Economics at the University of Benghazi in Libya. He received his PhD in Accounting and Finance from Victoria University, MA and BA in Accounting from Benghazi University. His research interests are related to corporate governance, international finance, investment analysis, risk management and financial markets.

Martin Spraggon is the Associate Dean of Academic Affairs at Mohammed Bin Rashid School of Government (MBRSG) in Dubai, UAE. Prior to joining MBRSG, he worked as a Professor of Strategic Management at the American University of Sharjah's (UAE) School of Business Administration where he has also served as the Director of Executive Education. He holds a PhD in Management from HEC Montreal (Canada), an MBA from Sherbrooke University (Canada), and a Master in Strategic Management and Entrepreneurship from Institut Supérieur du Commerce de Paris (France). Spraggon's areas of specialization include strategic management, design thinking and innovation, organizational behavior, international marketing, and managerial psychology.

Mohamed Abulgasem Zakari is an Assistant Professor at Economic Faculty, Tripoli University, Libya. He obtained his PhD in accounting from the Liverpool Business School, UK. Dr. Zakari has a broad and varied experience in accounting. He took part in several international and local conferences and contributed significantly to the research area of accounting in the emerging and Arab countries. He is a member of several profession and academic committees such as budget board, bids committee, editorial board of Economics and Political Journal, and Arab Journal of Quality in Education (AJQE). Dr. Zakari is a member of Libyan Accountants and Auditors Association.

Murya Habbash is an Associate Professor of Accounting at Administrative and Financial Sciences School, King Khalid University, Abha-Saudi Arabia. His Ph.D. from Durham University, UK in 2010 focused on corporate governance and earnings quality. His current research interests include corporate governance, audit quality, corporate social responsibility and earnings quality. He has published a book and 24 research papers in academic journals such as the Journal of Applied Accounting Research, Managerial Auditing Journal, International Journal of Disclosure and Governance and many others. He also holds CPA- Saudi and CME qualifications. A board member and Audit committee chairman in a Saudi listed company.

Neila Boulila Taktak is a Professor of accounting in IHEC Carthage, and the head of the MBA on banking governance, control and internal audit (ESSEC, Tunisia).

Rekha Pillai is a senior lecturer at Emirates Aviation University, Business School, Dubai. She holds a PhD in Management (Finance) from Banasthali University, India apart from a double masters in commerce. She has authored and co-authored several publications in international journals and her research interests include corporate governance, internet financial reporting, Islamic finance and innovation management. She has also served as a reviewer for several academic journals.

Tarek Abdelfattah is a senior lecturer of Accounting and Financial Management in Portsmouth Business School (UK) and Assistant Professor of accounting at Mansoura Business School, Egypt. He received his PhD in Accounting and Finance from Durham Business School, UK, MSc and BSc from Mansoura University (Egypt). Currently, he is the editor of International Journal of Excellence in Islamic Banking and Finance. His research interests are related to a variety of governance issues in non-financial companies, family-owned enterprises and financial institutions. Also, his research interests include financial reporting, earnings quality, Islamic banking and risk management.

Virginia Bodolica is a Professor in the School of Business Administration at the American University of Sharjah in the United Arab Emirates (UAE). She received her PhD in Administration from HEC Montreal (Canada), MBA from University of Nantes (France) & ESFAM (Bulgaria), MA in European Studies from College of Europe (Poland/Belgium), and BA in International Economic Relations from the Academy of Economic Studies (Moldova). Her research interests are related to a variety of soft and hard governance issues in for-profit settings, family-owned enterprises and healthcare institutions, including top management pay, markets for corporate control, board of directors' dynamics, ethical business conduct, and emotional and relational governance. Bodolica serves on the Editorial Board of several academic journals, is a member of the international program committee for a number of conferences, and is regularly invited as a featured speaker and panelist at academic and professional workshops and events.

Yuliya Lapina is a Co-editor of the Risk Governance and Control: Financial Markets & Institutions journal, Copy-editor of the Corporate Governance and Sustainability Review journal. Yuliya started her academic career in 2011 when she had joined a PhD program at the Ukrainian Academy of Banking (Ukraine). She defended her PhD thesis in "money, finance and credit" in 2014. Yuliya took active part in organizing conferences, workshops and lecture series in Ukraine, Italy, France, Portugal and Germany in the main field of corporate governance.