

LIST OF EDITORS AND CONTRIBUTORS

Alexander Kostyuk is a Director Virtus Global Center for Corporate Governance (Ukraine) and a Professor at Kristianstad University (Sweden). Alexander Kostyuk had started an academic career having defended the PhD dissertation in corporate finance in 2001. In 2007 one more degree (DBA) was granted to Alex Kostyuk (Switzerland). Since 2002 Alex Kostyuk has edited several books on corporate governance. As the editor Alex Kostyuk managed to establish groups of contributors consisting of more than 280 corporate governance experts from more than 50 countries of the world. Under the initiative and participation of Alex several international conferences in corporate governance have been arranged. Prof. Alexander Kostyuk is a member of the European Association of Science Editors (United Kingdom), The International Corporate Governance Society (United States), The Council of Science Editors (United States) and Association Académique Internationale de Gouvernance (France). Since 2017 – a Fellow of Seoul Corporate Governance Forum.

Anil Chandrakumara is a Senior Lecturer in the School of Management, Operations and Marketing at the University of Wollongong (Australia) where he teaches in the fields of Organisational Behaviour, Human Resource Management, International Business Strategy and Strategic Management. Anil's research, in these fields and in corporate governance, is published in several international journals such as International journal of Manpower; Employee Relations; International Journal; Thunderbird International Business Review; Australian Accounting Review; Corporate Ownership and Control; International Employment Relation Review; International Journal of Management; and, a number of proceedings of international conferences.

Anna Tilba is a researcher and a Lecturer in Strategy and Corporate Governance and a Director of Corporate Engagement at the Newcastle University Business School. Her research interests include pension fund investment, financial intermediation and networks, accountability, corporate governance and investor engagement. Anna has been a member of the Advisory Committee on Fiduciary Duties of Investment Intermediaries for the Law Commission. More recently, Anna has carried out research for the UK Financial Conduct Authority on the Effectiveness of the Oversight Committees as part of the FCA's Asset Management Market Study.

Danilo V. Mascia is a Research Fellow at the University of Cagliari (Italy) and a former Visiting Academic Research Fellow at Leeds University Business School (UK). After gaining his BSc and MSc in Economics in Sardinia, he moved to the University of Amsterdam, where he was awarded the title of MSc in Business Economics. He later received his PhD in Business Economics from the University of Cagliari, together with the title of Doctor Europaeus. His research interests are in the areas of banking, regulation, and financing of small and medium firms.

Dilvin Taşkın is an Associate Professor of Finance in Yaşar University, Izmir, Turkey. She has received her PhD in 2011 in Dokuz Eylül University. Her research interests include behavioural finance, financial intermediaries and corporate governance. She is a scientific member of various journals and has several publications in national and international journals. She is also the Associate Director and Vice President of Financial Economics Association.

Doriana Cucinelli is a Research Fellow at the University of Milano Bicocca and Adjunct Professor of Financial Intermediaries at the same University. She received her PhD in Banking and Finance from the University of Rome Tor Vergata in 2013. She is also a SDA Fellow in Banking and Insurance at the SDA Bocconi School of Management. Her main research interests are in the areas of risk management in banking, financial education, financial behaviour and corporate governance. She is a member of Associazione di economia dei mercati e degli intermediari finanziari (ADEIMF), Associazione Italiana Financial Industry Risk Managers (AIFIRM) and, since 2011, of the Auditors Committee of Tyche Association. She is also in the Editorial Board of the Corporate Ownership and Control journal since 2017. Finally, she is author of national and international publications and she has presented at many national and international conferences.

Ece Erdener Acar is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Business Administration at Yaşar University in Turkey. Her major is accounting and research interests include corporate governance, financial reporting and specifically international financial reporting standards.

Ehab K. A. Mohamed is the Dean and Professor of Accounting at the Faculty of Management Technology, German University in Cairo. Prior to joining GUC he worked for 10 years at Sultan Qaboos University, Oman. He graduated from Cairo University and received his M.Sc. & Ph.D. from Cass Business School, London. He is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Internal Auditors, UK. His areas of research are in auditing, fraud, performance measurement, business education, financial reporting, and corporate governance. He has published a number of papers in international refereed journals and presented papers at numerous international conferences. He published two books on financial accounting and auditing.

Elena Merino is Assistant Professor in the Department of Business Administration at the University of Castilla-La Mancha (Spain). Her current research includes corporate governance and management, remuneration of board of directors, characteristics of board of directors, corporate governance and remuneration of directors, among others.

Emilie Bonhoure is currently a Doctoral student at the University of Toulouse and is part of the research centre of Toulouse Business School (France). She graduated from Toulouse Business School in Finance, and is now working on her PhD dissertation about the impact of some firms' characteristics over their performance. More generally, her research interests cover corporate governance, pay-out policy, and historical finance.

Fadi Alkarran received his MA. and Ph.D. Accounting & Finance from Manchester Business School. He held various teaching and research positions at Business Schools; the University of Manchester (UK), Abu Dhabi University, United Arab Emirates University (UAE) Gulf Private University Aleppo University, and Grafton College of Management Sciences (Ireland). He was promoted to Associate Professor of Accounting & Finance at Aleppo University in 2012. He published many papers in prestigious journals. His research interests mainly focus on contemporary issues of strategic investment decision-making and investment appraisal techniques, control mechanisms and corporate governance. Currently, he is a Lecturer at Cork University Business School (Ireland).

Fumiko Takeda received her Ph.D. in Economics from Yale University in 2001. She joined the faculty of the University of Tokyo in 2004. Takeda sits on the Editorial Review Board of The International Journal of Accounting and serves as Associate Editor for Electronic Commerce Research and Applications, and The Japanese Accounting Review.

Georgia N. Kontogeorga is currently Board Member at the International Board of Auditors for NATO (IBAN), Brussels, Belgium. She is also Head of Unit at the Hellenic Court of Auditors, Athens, Greece. Her academic interests focus on public sector management and administration, public accounting, auditing and corporate governance.

Georgios L. Thanasas holds a Ph.D. in Accounting. He is currently an Adjunct Assistant Professor at Technological Education Institute of Western Macedonia (Kozani), Dept. of Accounting and Finance. He is also a customs officer in Directorate of Excise Duties and VAT. His research interests focus on managerial accounting, auditing and corporate governance.

Helen Roberts is a Senior Lecturer in Finance at the University of Otago, Dunedin, New Zealand. Her research interests include corporate governance, CEO compensation, and microfinance. Recent research examines CEO board involvement and regulatory controls affecting board independence using New Zealand data.

Inês Margarida Cadima Lisboa is a Professor at School of Technology and Management, Polytechnic Institute of Leiria. She is also a researcher at Management for Sustainability Research Centre. Her research interests focus on family firms, corporate governance, capital structure, financial performance, firm's risk, earnings management, and others in the financial field. She has published a number of papers in journals, and participated in several conferences in her area of research.

Jimmy Saravia is an Assistant Professor of Finance at Universidad EAFIT in Colombia. Jimmy is a member of the Grupo de Investigación en Banca y Finanzas, School of Economics and Finance, and the Center for Research in Economics and Finance (CIEF), at Universidad EAFIT. His research interests include corporate finance, corporate governance, international finance and Austrian economics.

Kees van Veen is an Associate Professor of International Business and Management and the director of the Institute for Governance and Organizational Responsibility (iGOR), Faculty of Economics and Business, University of Groningen, the Netherlands. His research interests are (comparative) corporate governance, board dynamics, executive pay, and the internationalization of interlocking directorate networks. He has published on these issues in such journals as Long Range Planning, Corporate Governance: An International Review, Global Networks, Economy and Society, International Business Review.

Kim Backhouse is a Sessional Lecturer in the MBA program at the University of Tasmania in Law and Strategic Management. Dr Backhouse also runs her own consultancy practice specialising in matters related to Governance and Strategy. Kim has her PhD in corporate governance, a MBA and a Bachelor of Laws. Kim was admitted as a Barrister and Solicitor, of the Supreme Court of Victoria, Supreme Court of Tasmania and High Court of Australia. Kim has also completed a Diploma with the Australian Institute of Company Directors. Kim has been appointed to statutory boards over the past two decades and is currently on Centacare Evolve Housing Board. Her research interests are governance, strategy, superannuation and innovation.

Laurent Germain is a Professor of Finance and was the Head and the Founder of the Finance and Economics Group at Toulouse Business School. He teaches also at ISAE-SUPAERO. His research interests are market microstructure, behavioural and neuro finance, and corporate governance. He is graduated from Toulouse Business School, Toulouse School of Economics, New York University and University Paris Dauphine. After a Post doctorate at London Business School in 1996 financed by the European Commission he got a position of Assistant Professor of Finance at London Business School. He left LBS in 2000 to join TBS. He was one of the Directors of the European Financial Management Association and published articles in leading journals such as Review of Financial Studies, Journal of Financial and Quantitative Analysis, Journal of Financial Intermediation, European Financial Management etc.

Leszek Bohdanowicz is an Associate Professor at the Department of Finance and Strategic Management, University of Lodz, Poland. He has MA and PhD degrees from the University of Lodz. His research interests are in the areas of corporate governance and strategic management. He published his research in various Polish and international journals. He carried out numerous research projects financed by the Polish Ministry of Science and Higher Education and conducted also training and consulting activities for many Polish companies. Leszek Bohdanowicz is a member of the European Academy of Management, the Scientific Society of Organization and Management and the member of the Scientific Council of the Institute of Electronic Materials Technology (ITME) in Warsaw.

Maria Clara Barros Guilherme is a Professor at School of Technology and Management, Polytechnic Institute of Leiria, Portugal. Her research interests focus on family firms. She has participated in several conferences in her area of research.

Mark Rix is a Senior Lecturer in the School of Management, Operations and Marketing at the University of Wollongong (Australia) where he specialises in teaching corporate governance and also teaches human resource management. Mark's research focuses on counter-terrorism, human rights and democratic governance in Australia and other liberal democracies. His research also investigates money laundering and terrorism financing in Australia.

Mark Wickham is a Senior Lecturer at the University of Tasmania, teaching Introduction to Management and Business Ethics. His research interests include sustainability management, the role of ethics in strategy. Mark Wickham has a particular interest in qualitative methods.

Michelle Li is a Lecturer in Finance at the University of Auckland, New Zealand. Her current research interest lies in the areas of corporate finance including CEO board involvement, CEO compensation, and merger and acquisitions. She works extensively in corporate governance in New Zealand and has publications that are well recognized in the region.

Mirel Leino is a partner at PwC Finland focusing on consulting assignments and research in Corporate Governance, Risk Management and Financial Services Regulation. She has PhD (Econ.) degree from HANKEN School of Economics in Helsinki.

Mohamed A. K. Basuony is an Associate Professor of Accounting at the School of Business at the American University in Cairo. Prior to that, he worked at the German University in Cairo and Faculty of Commerce, Ain Shams University. He received both his Bachelor with honours and Master Degree from the same university. He obtained his Ph.D. degree from Brunel University in the UK. His work experience includes twenty years teaching undergraduates as well as post-graduates in Egypt and the UK. His areas of research are in performance management, balanced scorecard, management and strategic control, corporate governance, and corporate social responsibility.

Montserrat Manzaneque is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Business Administration at the University of Castilla-La Mancha (Spain). Her current research interests include corporate governance and management, business failure, intellectual capital, knowledge management, non-profit management, innovation, corporate governance and management.

Niels Hermes is Professor of International Finance and Chair of the Department of Economics, Econometrics and Finance of the Faculty of Economics and Business, University of Groningen, the Netherlands. His research interests are corporate governance, international finance and sustainable finance. He has published on these topics in journals such as Economic Journal, Corporate Governance: An International Review, World Development, Journal of International Money and Finance and Journal of Banking and Finance. With respect to corporate governance his work revolves around questions related to the corporate board structure, board effectiveness, comparative analyses of corporate governance systems, and the governance of non-profit organizations.

Nuno Teixeira is a Professor at Institute Polytechnic of Setúbal. He holds a PhD in Strategic Management. Nuno Teixeira is an investigator and consultant in strategy, finance, entrepreneurship, internationalization and management control systems. He is author of several papers in journals and in conferences in his areas of research.

Raef Gouiaa, MBA, Ph.D., CPA, CMA, is a Professor of Accounting at the University of Québec in Outaouais, Canada. He is an active member in the accounting profession and the academic community. Prof. Gouiaa is the head of the Performance Research Group in the accounting department of University of Québec in Outaouais since 2014 and a reviewer for a number of academic journals. His research interests are related to corporate governance, information disclosure, management control and performance management. His latest work focuses on risk management and new corporate governance challenges.

Romora E. Sitorus is a Finance Ph.D. student at the University of Oklahoma. Romora holds Indonesian citizenship and his research interests include corporate finance and financial markets.

Sandra Gaitan is an Associate Professor of Finance at Universidad EAFIT in Colombia. Sandra is a member of the Grupo de Investigación en Banca y Finanzas, School of Economics and Finance, and the Center for Research in Economics and Finance (CIEF), at Universidad EAFIT. Her research interests include corporate finance, corporate governance and international finance.

Seppo Ikäheimo is a Professor of Corporate Governance at Aalto University School of Business (Finland). His research and teaching interest covers compensation systems, ownership, investor relations, board of directors, auditing and company valuation. In these fields, he also serves as an advisor for firms and in regulation.

Udo Braendle is a Chair of Business and Economics and Associate Professor of Management at American University in Dubai (UAE). Prior to teaching at AUD, he taught in Saudi Arabia, UK (School of Law, University of Manchester) and in Austria. He is still an external lecturer at the University of Vienna, where he teaches a Corporate Governance course every year. His research mainly focuses on corporate governance, regulation and the social and environmental behaviour of firms (CSR). In addition, he has published widely on these issues in leading journals, such as the Journal of Management and Governance, the Journal of Interdisciplinary Economics, and the Business Strategy Review. Professor Braendle is a member of the Sonnenfels Center for the Study of Public Law and Economics as well as the Society of International Development (SID).

Vassilis Sp. Smaraidos is a Ph.D. Candidate in Accounting at University of Patras. He is currently an Adjunct Lecturer at Technological Education Institute of Western Greece (city of Messolonghi), Dept. of Accounting and Finance. He is also CEO at Eurooikonomiki SA (Business, Accounting and Tax Consultants). His research interests focus on earnings management, tax planning, auditing and corporate governance.

Vincenzo Capizzi is SDA Professor of Banking and Finance at SDA Bocconi School of Management (Italy). He is a Full Professor of Banking and Finance at University of Eastern Piedmont, Department of Economics and Business Studies (Novara). His research activities focus mainly on banking and corporate finance, with particular focus on M&A deals, corporate turnaround, leveraged acquisitions, venture capital and start-up financing, corporate valuation and investment banking. Professor Capizzi is the author of numerous books and articles on the subject. His latest book deals with corporate crises and debt restructuring procedure. His works have been published in Venture Capital, International Finance and Banking, Journal of Governance and Regulation, Corporate Ownership and Control, Bancaria and Economia & Management, among others. Vincenzo Capizzi is also the managing partner of an advisory company specialized in M&A deals, debt & equity fundraising, corporate restructuring, and sits in the board of many companies, listed and not listed, as non-executive director.

William L. Megginson is a Professor and Price Chair in Finance at the University of Oklahoma's Michael F. Price College of Business. He is also the Saudi Aramco Chair Professor in Finance at King Fahd University of Petroleum and Minerals in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. Professor Megginson's research interest has focused in recent years on the privatization of state-owned enterprises, sovereign wealth fund investments, and investment banking principles and practices. His research has been frequently cited in academic and professional publications, and his articles have been downloaded over 57,000 times from the Social Sciences Research Network, while his books and articles have been cited over 17,000 times (according to Google Scholar). He has served as a privatization consultant for the New York Stock Exchange, the OECD, the IMF, the World Federation of Exchanges, and the World Bank.