

The paper titled "An exploratory study of the relationship between learning styles and auditing errors" was retracted from the journal by the consent of all involved stakeholders to respect the research integrity. This matter has been resolved in November 2017. More information about this retraction can be received from the Publisher by request.